

AIMEE DOANE

VP GROWTH AND CUSTOMER DEVELOPMENT

Aimee is a woman on a mission: to help Zirrus One customers succeed.

As Vice President, Growth and Customer Development, Aimee's focus is ensuring employees and the company exceed customer expectations.

With over 16 years in the telecommunications industry, Aimee encountered all phases of the business and most recently held executive positions at the fourth largest cable/internet service provider in the US. She is known for delivering results. That could mean driving revenue and opex/capex savings for customer experience, sales, product, marketing and engineering areas. Or, it could mean revenue growth through managing programs, analytics, business operations and project planning.

Customers trust that Aimee will be direct and serve them as a trusted advisor. She understands best practices in change management, process improvement and driving revenue and profitability through innovation. She will be your partner in meeting your goals. She will make herself available, celebrate your successes, And, will always have that incredible smile and little bit of Texas drawl to brighten your day.
